DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 23, 2006 has been entered.

Applicants' arguments filed August 23, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

Claims 31-50 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1614

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 31-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Loftsson U.S. 5,472,954 A. in view of Dziabo et al. U.S. Patent No. 5,424,078.

Loftsson et al. teach an ophthalmic composition (column 18, lines 8-12) comprising a cyclodextrin, such as the sulfobutyl ether of β cyclodextrin (column 6, line 60) and an anti-inflammatory steroid (column 19, lines 16-39), such as prednisolone (see table 10, column 28). The ophthalmic cyclodextrin composition has water added in addition to the active ingredient along with pH adjusters, buffers and preservatives, in a sterile isotonic buffered aqueous solution (column 19, lines 24-31). Loftsson's preserved cyclodextrin and prednisolone ophthalmic composition lacks the chlorite preservative.

Dziabo et al. teach an ophthalmic composition with a stabilized chloride dioxide preservative (see abstract).

It would have been made obvious to one of ordinary skill in art at the time it was made to employ chloride dioxide as a preservative in an ophthalmic preparation motivated by the teaching of Dziabo et al who employs stabilized chlorine dioxide as a preservative for ophthalmic preparations.

Loftsson et al. does not specifically teach prednisolone acetate. However, when the reference teaches a small genus which places a claimed species in the possession of the public as in In re Schaumann, 572 F.2d 312, 197 USPQ 5 (CCPA 1978), and the species would have been obvious even if the genus were not sufficiently small to justify a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102. See MPEP §§ 2131.02 and 2144.08. In this case, the prednisolone acetate would be immediately envisioned by the teaching of Loftsson because the reference teaches a small genus, prednisolone, thus the species claimed, prednisolone acetate, would have been immediately envisioned.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 31-36, 329-46 and 49-50 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection above.
